Stephan Russo

Dear Friends,

Our mission at Goddard Riverside Community Center is this:

Goddard Riverside Community Center works every day for a fair and just society where all people have the opportunity to make choices that lead to better lives for themselves and their families.

These words were true 57 years ago and they are true today. Our work as a 21st century settlement house continues to be shaped and directed by this mission. The needs of the community we serve change over time but the core value of each person who comes through our doors and participates in our programs never changes.

We believe all people have the potential for growth and we are committed to fostering growth in every person, at every age. The pages of this annual report tell the story of one year at Goddard Riverside—filled with many stories of change.

- Darlene gains the confidence to look for a full-time job.
- Bernard comes in for a meal and finds a community.
- The Senior Center Advisory Council joins forces to encourage others.
- Children and youth at Lincoln Square Neighborhood Center have a safe place to go.
- Fanta leaves home for college and inspires her sisters to do the same.

These stories show the impact our programs have on the lives of men, women, youth and children who can see beyond today and hope for a better future. This is what change looks like at Goddard Riverside.

Stephan Russo
Executive Director

Darlene

Darlene Franklin came to TOP Opportunities after a series of misfortunes that left her homeless and jobless. Always a dedicated and enthusiastic worker, she just needed the confidence to get back on her feet. TOP OP helped with practice interviews and the opportunity to work there answering phones. Meeting new people and gaining experience at TOP OP led to a regular part-time job and a new, sunny apartment all her own. She's taking computer classes to improve her skills and already has her eye on full-time work.

“I keep smiling and try to stay positive. I’m meeting new people and have more confidence.”

Senior Center Advisory Council

Caroline Trim, Rosalind Ricketts, and Louise Leaver wanted to make the Senior Center they love even better. So they stepped up as leaders and got elected to the Advisory Council. They started holding raffles to get more people in the door—and they make sure every new arrival gets welcomed with a warm smile and some friendly words. Small things like this make a big difference.

“Sometimes people just need a little encouragement to feel good!”

Lincoln Square Neighborhood Center

Goddard Riverside merged with Lincoln Square Neighborhood Center this year. The move enabled Lincoln Square to relaunch its youth program—something neighborhood residents had requested for a long time. At first, many of the young people only wanted to play basketball, but program director Bruce Copeland encouraged them to try chess, photography and drama. “One night I came in and found the gym empty. Then I realized they were all playing board games,” he recalls with a grin. “It’s a different set of skills; different strategies. That’s growth. That’s change.”

FANTA

Fanta Fofana is the eldest daughter in a family that values education. But when they ended up living in a shelter, with Fanta's mother raising six children on her own, Fanta had a lot more responsibility than the average high school junior. When she came to our Options Center college access program, she got the one-on-one help her large public high school could not provide and had no trouble getting into several very good schools. She faced a bright future and a difficult decision: go away to the college of her choice or stay local and help her mother? In choosing to go away, she helped in a different way—as a role model to her sisters Bintou and Aminata, who have followed her lead and, with help from Options, plan to go to college like their big sister.

“I would never have thought I could make the choice to go away for college.”

BERNARD

Bernard Clark found The Other Place after he lost a job and became homeless. He didn't really know why he walked through our doors—except that they served lunch and he was hungry. Soon he was a regular club member, volunteering at the welcome desk, greeting other members and getting to know people. There was so much going on at TOP that he found himself volunteering for every job and activity in the clubhouse. Now Bernard has a paying job, a stable living situation and confidence about the future. But more than that, he has a community.

“I don't know where I would be without this place. I was lost before I came here.”
